Belmont Tracks in Difficulties

Suit for Receiver Brought In City Courts

Another chapter is being written in the history of old Belmont Driving Park, Narberth. President Joshua Evans and a majority of the Board of Directors have appeared before a Philadelphia Judge and asked for a receiver to be appointed, who will be empowered to take over the affairs of the club and untangle the web into which every one connected with the organization seems to be enmeshed.

This move was decided upon at a meeting held last week, following a previous meeting held by President F. Fleming and the other Board of Directors, who had been called together to arrange for leasing the buildings, grounds and track for the season of 1924-25. The latter officials represent a majority in stock holdings, and the former in number of members, and the question of who is really in authority has never been decided since the time, over a year ago, when a 20-year lease was awarded by the old Board to John C. Herrman, but never ratified, through being given possession. Mr. Herrman is suing the club for his forfeit of $2,000, and a suit is also promised by the tax collector of Montgomery County unless school and other taxes are settled.

If the Herrman lease had gone into effect, the money received by the club, $5,000 a year for 20 years, taxes, water and insurance paid and $25,000 a year for three years spent in improvements, would have squared up all indebtedness and created a surplus. This lease, however, was objected to by the majority stockholders as being for too long a term and later by others, who received an opinion that it was not in keeping with the charter, which states plainly that the club was formed as a non-profit organization for social purposes and the improvement of horse breeding through contests of speed. The latter feature was also brought forward at the new Directors' meeting that planned to lease the track for automobile racing on holidays throughout the year, but were warned by a representative of John R. K. Scott, who was elected Director in the new organization, that anything on that order would be objected to by injunction is necessary.

In the meantime, C. W. Merkle, who has been in charge of the clubhouse and grounds for a number of years and at present holds a lease from both sides, is keeping the track in fair shape for training purposes, but before any kind of a race meeting could be held it would be necessary to spend considerable money in repairing fences, stables, grandstand and clubhouse.

Club Has Many Officers

Something definite may come from the proceedings, but at present the peculiar situation may be summed up in the following: A popular driving club, with property valued at nearly $200,000, unable to settle outstanding accounts, two Presidents, the same number of Vice Presidents, Secretaries and Treasurers, each with a competent Board of Directors, each organization with offers of leases that would square accounts. One man owns 51 per cent. of stock issued, three or more buyers for the property willing to pay enough to insure a profit on all stock, at least one of the prospects being satisfied to hold the property for horse racing for

FAREWELL RECEPTION

Last Thursday night at eight o'clock, the Smedley Sunday Association, Mrs. Palmquist's class and the Building Committee gave a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Graves, who are moving to California.

The reception was held in the Social room of the Church. The evening was enjoyed by the large number there, and was only marred by the fact that those in whose honor it was, were so soon to leave.

During the course of the evening Mr. Graves and his family were presented with an automobile lunch kit which they seemed to think would greatly add to the comfort of their cross-continent tour as they are going to drive to their new home.

This is the second good Baptist family to move to California in six months' time, and the Baptists hereby give notice that the quota for that State is filled and no more passports will be signed for that destination.

Many Attend Open Air Concert

Choral Closed Successful Season Friday

If the weather man can be said to have any feelings, he showed them last Friday night, when the Choral Society gave its last concert. As if to make up for April 6th, which was the stormiest day so far this year, he provided the best of weather—in fact, it was probably the only possible evening for an open air performance in all this month of rain.

That the situation was appreciated was indicated by the splendid attendance, for the crowd which found its way to Shirley Road was one of the largest that ever heard a concert in Narberth.

Fifty singers were on the platform, and Miss Florence Haenle, violinist and member of the Matinee Musical Club Orchestra was soloist, with Miss Fanny Loos, of Narberth, at the piano. While the program contained several of the numbers given at Ardmore earlier in the year, it was very favorably received, especially as it gave a good demonstration of the progress and improvement of the Choral under the direction of Mr. Bentz.

Miss Haenle delighted her audience with that same artistry which made many look forward to her coming again after they had heard her at the banquet last fall. Particularly pleasing to the society was her rendition of "Far Away," by Mansfield, a number which is intended for one of next season's programs of the Choral. We hope to hear Miss Haenle again.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Compton and Mrs. Loos, refreshments were served, both before and after the concert, and a nice sum was realized for the budget.

Although only two formal concerts were given this season because of the comparatively short time available, due to the change in the directorship, Narberth Choral made a beginning in what it is hoped will become the true ideal of the organization. On April 12th the trip was made to "The Light-house" in Kensington, and a very enjoyable evening spent at that center for social work. More recently, at the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Fairview Sunday School—one of the oldest institutions around Narberth—the singers provided the musical program for the principal service. It is the purpose of the members to continue this form of community endeavor and to thus become a permanent institution. The greatest handicap to this to be faced next year will be the lack of facilities for rehearsals and concerts, and it is probable that until some form of a community center is provided, there may have to be some new arrangements worked out.

Whatever they are, however, one thing is sure—Mr. Bentz has won the confidence of his singers and of the music lovers of Narberth by his knowledge of choral music, his method of leadership, and his attributes as a man. Everybody will look forward eagerly to the work of next season.

A final meeting of the Board of Directors has been scheduled for Monday evening, June 9th, at which time the business of the past season will be closed up and plans projected for next fall.

JUNIOR CARD PARTY

Would you entertain that week-end guest? Take her to the card party given Saturday, June 7th, on Mueller's lawn, corner Windsor and Forest Avenues. Admission is but $75, which insures a pleasant afternoon, refreshments, and a chance to win a handsome prize for your table.

Phone Louise Ferina or see one of the Juniors about your reservation. You know what a nice affair they had last year on Smedley's lawn—well, this, on Mueller's lawn, promises to surpass all previous records. You can afford the 75 cents admission, but you can't afford to miss this splendid opportunity of playing Bridge, 500 or Mah Jong, under the most favorable conditions.

SENATOR STITES DINES WITH PINCHOT

State Senator Fletcher W. Stites, of Narberth, was the guest of Governor Pinchot when the chief executive of the State entertained at dinner last Monday evening, in honor of the members of the State Supreme Court, who on that day opened their May session at Harrisburg.

Narberth Tennis Club Gets Big State Tourney

Greatest Net Stars of the East Will Contend on Local Courts in July

Narberth is to be the scene of one of the big tennis events of the East during the 1924 season.

Starting on July 26, the first Pennsylvania Clay Court Championship that has ever been held will be staged on the courts of the Narberth Tennis Association.

Many of the best players in the country will contend for this new title—never before held by anyone, and this means that Narberth is going to have some of the best tennis that will be played in the United States this season.

Thanks to the Narberth Tennis Association, through whose good offices this new championship tournament has been brought to our town, local tennis enthusiasts will have at least a week of opportunity to see many of the highest ranking net stars of the East playing their best, keyed up not alone to win, but to carry off the double honor of being the first holder of the new title.

Championship matches will start on Saturday afternoon, July 26, and continue every day of the following week. There will be both singles and doubles—so there will actually be two new crowns to be won—and it is hoped that the finals will be reached and played on the following Saturday, August 2.

A beautiful silver cup—the gift of Mr. A. D. W. Smith, of Philadelphia, will be awarded as the championship trophy to the new singles state champion. The cup, which is about eighteen inches high and of exceptionally fine design, will become the permanent possession of the player who first wins the championship three times.

While entries in the new championship tournament will not close until some time in July, and consequently but a few players have at this advance date formally entered, it is definitely known that Carl Fischer, present holder of the Intercollegiate Championship title, and Wallace Johnson, present Pennsylvania State Champion (grass courts), will both be among the contestants.

With the new championship open to non-residents of the State, as well as Pennsylvanians (which is in accordance with the rules and regulations of the U. S. L. T. A., in connection with all state championships) it is certain that the final list of entries will include not a few of the most noted players of the East.

An interesting local note will be given to the event by the fact that the entries will include a number of Narberth players who, in the last three or four years have been playing in several of the big tournaments around Philadelphia and New York and making very creditable showings.

Incidentally, the bringing of this new Championship tournament to Narberth serves to illustrate the important position that the Narberth Tennis Association has reached in State and National tennis affairs. For this new Championship, sanctioned by the Middle Atlantic Section of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, will be officially under the auspices of the local Association, whose officers and committees will be in full charge.

The Narberth Association has enjoyed a big and successful development during the last four years. In addition to acquiring the grounds at Montgomery Pike and Haverford Avenue, on which has been built seven of the finest clay courts in the country, the Association has completely remodeled and improved the buildings that were on the site at the time of acquisition, and today the more than 200 members have a comfortable and roomy club house with every facility required to meet their athletic and social needs.

This season the Association has, for the first time, secured the service of an experienced grounds keeper who is devoting all his time to the Association. The membership is growing and all and all it looks as though the season of 1924 would be the best of the many that the Association has enjoyed.

W. D. R. Evans, who is again serving as President, has this year been elected as secretary of the Philadelphia Tennis Association; is a member of the Executive Committee of the Middle States' Association, and a member of the National Tennis Supply Committee of the U. S. L. T. A. Other members are also actively connected with tennis affairs outside of Narberth as well as in their own Association. Otto Kruse, vice president, is a member of the inter-collegiate committee of the Middle States Association, Walter Cowin is a member of the junior committee of the Middle States Association, and A. T. Gragan is a member of the Umpire Committee of the same Association.

During the last two seasons the Narberth Association has had teams in the Middle States League, and in 1922 won the championship of Division B. Last season the local Association voluntarily moved up into Division A, the fastest group in the Middle States League, and while the team did not carry off first honors, the players made a good showing, and are determined to do even better this season.

A new feature of the club this season is a girls' team which is being organized and coached by Mrs. C. W. Berger. It is hoped to enter this team in the Inter Club League, in which are girls' teams from the representative tennis clubs of Philadelphia and the surrounding suburban towns.

B. & L. NEW SERIES

The Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association opens its new 11th series on Tuesday evening, June 3rd, at the office of Wm. D. and H. T. Smedley, on Narberth Avenue, at the Pennsylvania Railroad Bridge, when subscriptions will be received for both the single and double shares. Single shares require the payment of one dollar a month for each share, with an entrance fee for the first month of twenty-five cents a share, and when the amount paid in, together with the interest on same amounting to over $2 a year, equals $200, the shares mature and require about eleven years and three months to reach their par, or $200 a share.

The Double Shares are of the same par value, $200 and require a payment of two dollars a month, with an entrance fee of fifty cents per share the first month only, and earn the same interest as the single shares, taking a little over six years to mature.

The money received in dues each month from this Building and Loan Association is promptly loaned out on first and second mortgages, nearly all of which are in Narberth and which have been thoroughly looked into and approved by a Building Committee before being voted on by the Board of Directors of the Association, and consequently the security is the best that can be had.

There probably are a great many residents of Narberth who are not stockholders in the Narberth American Legion Building and Loan Association and it is hoped to reach a number of the new residents, and an invitation is extended to all to become stockholders by taking out stock in this new series.

This Association has been well conducted by its officers and directors and offers a safe investment paying over 8%, and the amount you pay in each month can vary from $1.00 to as much more as you can carry.

This Association is incorporated under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, and is subject to all the inspections and rules of the State Banking Commissioners, and we have no hesitation in recommending it as a safe investment to all our Narberth friends.

Application blanks can be obtained from any of the Directors or by calling the Secretary, Mr. Harry A. Simpson, at Narberth 636, or by attending the meeting on the evening of June 3rd, from 7 until 9, and for those unable to attend the meetings each month arrangements can be made so that they can send their checks to reach the Secretary before each meeting, the check being a receipt for their monthly dues.

Let us all increase the number of shares we now carry and ask our friends to become stockholders and make this Association better and larger, not only for our own good, but as one of the successful institutions of the Borough of Narberth.

Some buy tonics at the drug store, and some go out and dig dandelion greens.

Elm Hall Crowded Narberth Soloists in At Scout Play

Fifty Girls Share Ap- plause in Fantasy

The Troll's Cap, given last Saturday night, was without a doubt, the crowning event of the year. Never was Elm Hall so crowded with interested spectators and never was a more delightful entertainment produced. The Girl Scouts are being congratulated from every side on account of the production.

The play was heralded and announced by two charming pages, Annabel Needham and Ann Speed. In the prologue Molly Irish introduced the audience to fairyland, while a specialty dance by Ann Speed and Molly Irish and a solo dance by Marian Henry, looking like a dainty orchid, made us really believe we had been transported there.

The opening scene of the operetta was in the nursery of the Palace of Avenon on the first birthday of the Prince and Princess who are to become the two rulers of their country. These parts were taken very beautifully by Marion Henry and Mary Neal, their names being Mironne and Virzel. The parts of fairy Godmothers of the royal children, Constance and Caprice, were taken by Ella Rose and Kitty Adams.

A special feature of the first act was a solo by Cora Messer, "Sleep," supported by a chorus of flower girls.

In part two we have our hero and heroine with their faithful fairy godmother, Constance, in the forest. These three parts were sung and acted beautifully by the three children.

A band of dainty fairies and a company of roguish trolls, under the leadership of Carrie Louise Douglass, as their king, brought beauty and "pep" to this forest setting.

The throngs of knights and ladies, fairies, flower girls and trolls in their appropriate and becoming costumes were delightful in their rendition of dance and song.

The dancing throughout the show was remarkably fascinating. Not only in the choruses did they dance, but the "trio jazz" dance in which Betty Hartley, Helen Louise Thomas and Thelma Livingston took part, and the Egyptian dance of Betty Hartley's rivaled the dancers in the "Follies" with their beauty and grace.

Between the acts there was an original sketch composed by Louise Smedley and worked up by Louise Smedley, Honora Snyder, Cynthia Metzger and Katherine Angst, to demonstrate a few of the things which "scouting" does to help the girls in every day life. It was most originally entertaining.

Much credit is due the leader of the troop, Miss Ruth Ely Haws, and her aides, for the splendid way in which fifty youngsters were transformed into a troupe of skilled actresses.

AUTO INJURES CHILDREN

An automobile owned by S. Earle Haines, of Heath Road, Merion, and driven by his chauffeur, Patrick Flynn, last Monday, injured two children in Narberth.

The boys who were hurt are Stewart Turner, of Woodside Avenue, and Douglass S. Livingston, of Chestnut Avenue. They are each nine years of age. Both children were riding on the latter's bicycle.

The accident occurred at Woodside and Essex Avenues, as the children were turning into the gutter. According to all indications the driver, who was going slowly, made every effort to avoid hitting the youngsters. It was a question just which way the bicycle was going, and the chauffeur guessed wrong. He has been held in bail for a hearing at Ardmore.

The Livingston boy was badly bruised about the head and body, but was not otherwise badly hurt. Stewart Turner, however, had to be taken to the Bryn Mawr Hospital, where a large gash in his scalp was sewed. He is also suffering from a slight concussion of the brain, and his condition has been a source of worry to his aunt, Mrs. George B. Suplee, with whom he is living.

Mrs. Stewart Turner, the boy's mother, died last month in California, where his father is staying at the present time.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church will hold their annual strawberry festival next Friday at the Church.

The affair will begin at 6.30. Tickets are on sale at 35 cents. Candy and fancy articles will be on sale.

Narberth Soloists in Ardmore Concert

Main Line Orchestra Completes Season's Series

An audience which comfortably filled the Ardmore Theatre last Sunday afternoon applauded the final concert of the Main Line Orchestra.

Under the baton of Adolph Vogel, and with four soloists chosen from the organization itself, this distinctive Main Line organization presented a program both tuneful and difficult.

Nearly fifty amateur musicians took part in the performance. They have been gathered from every town on the Main Line, from Balakynow to Wayne. Some are from Delaware County and a few from Philadelphia. In lesser and eight players are from Narberth, including three of the four soloists of last Sunday.

A skill and enthusiasm with which the scattered group of music lovers has been bound together into a professional orchestra was well demonstrated in this week's performance. Wagner and Tschankowsky scored the program in the writers of lighter numbers.

The program opened with a supple "Andante" a number well suited to the instruments of a small orchestra. It was presented in a manner which shows careful training. There is great deal in Mr. Vogel's manner of leading, and to a remarkable degree, in his physical appearance, which suggests his famous master in the Philadelphia Orchestra, Leopold Stokowski.

The four solo pieces were performed in a manner which called forth a thunder of applause from the audience. "Cantata pour Clarinette" of Pierce, was rendered by George B. Tompkins, of West Philadelphia. The expert playing of the clarinet, backed by the orchestra accompaniment, made a combination of splendid effect.

Master Fred Fletcher Patten, 11-year old pupil of the Narberth public schools, showed the remarkable talent which has come to him at so early an age. "Souvenir de Wieniawski," by Busch, a number of considerable technical difficulty, was handled with the ease and assurance of a master.

The rich, vibrant tones of the "cello" were brought out in all their beauty in "Spanish Serenade," of Friml, played by L. Wayne Army, an amateur whose artistry ranks with the best. Frederick Patten, Sr., played on the trumpet the melody of the "Evening Star," from Fannhauser, with the orchestra supporting him as accompaniment.

Most popular, undoubtedly, of the entire program was "Dreams," a study in Tristan and Isolde of Wagner. This delicate and beautiful piece is admirably adapted to an orchestra of this size. Its rendition showed above any other part of the program, the tone balance and unity achieved by the conductor.

Tschankowsky was represented in the program by "Meditation" and by the ever popular "Valse des Fleurs" from the Nutcracker Suite.

Concluding the program, the orchestra repeated by request "Finlandia," by Sibelius. The lack of sufficient brass and woodwind to carry off the powerful movements of this tone poem was compensated for by the orchestra's unity and skill. "Finlandia" is a difficult number, and its successful rendition demonstrates the wonderful progress made by this group of amateur players.

In all, twenty-four different numbers have been offered by the Main Line Orchestra in their four concerts. When there is added to this list the solo numbers in which they have assisted, a truly imposing repertoire is shown. Certainly with the interest and enthusiasm of Mr. Powell as its executive head, combined with the musicianship of its leader, the future of the Orchestra bids fair to exceed the expectations of its founders. It is an activity which cannot but bring fame to the entire Main Line.—P. A. L.

ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Arthur Goldsmith, of Montgomery Avenue and Mill Road, entertained at luncheon on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Edwin Watious, President of the Alpha Music Club. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frank Luckenbach, of Elkins Park, Mrs. Charles Sealer, of Merion, Mrs. W. Cox, of Camden, Mrs. D'Arcy Wonders, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Caroline Littlefield, of Ardmore.

Nobody is worrying about the water supply this spring.

THE DESPOILERS

Some of our state gardens clubs are making a protest against the action of Sunday automobile parties and others who strip the trees of blossoms and who leave in their wake a trail of waste paper, sardine cans, pickle bottles and scraps of food. It is a condition which threatens to rob the countryside of much of its charm.

The movement to stop these practices, which is worth adopting in Narberth, has been started at an opportune time, for with the trees in bloom and many of the flowers, the country presents just such an appearance as will tempt Sunday picnickers to engage in vandalism. And the season is still so early that a remonstrance issued now may be helpful in saving the roadsides, farms and groves from spoliation.

The unsightly rubbish which the visitors so often leave behind them can be gathered and removed by those desirous of keeping their neighborhood looking tidy. But Sunday automobile parties should not impose this burden on the folks on whose property they camp, especially when it would be so easy to clear up the litter themselves.

The destruction of shrubbery and flowers is another matter. They cannot be replaced. Already the ruthlessness has been carried to a point at which some varieties of flowers have almost vanished.

In gathering these flowers many of the visitors, it is supposed, are actuated by a desire to carry some of the beauty of the countryside to their homes. But it is not fair to enrich themselves at the expense of others who are thus robbed of the opportunity to enjoy the beauty of the rural landscapes.

The common flowers, if gathered, should be plucked sparingly; the others not at all. Those which are picked should not be torn up by the roots. It would be well if shrubs and trees were left untouched.

The campaign for the preservation of wild flowers has future generations in mind. No considerate person will knowingly do anything that will tend to leave our country a waste, a place in which our descendants will not care to live. But that may be the result if a step is not put to the destruction of the forests, the eradication of our most attractive wild flowers and the marring of the countryside by reckless disregard of the things necessary for the maintenance of its beauty.

TENNIS DINNER ENJOYABLE

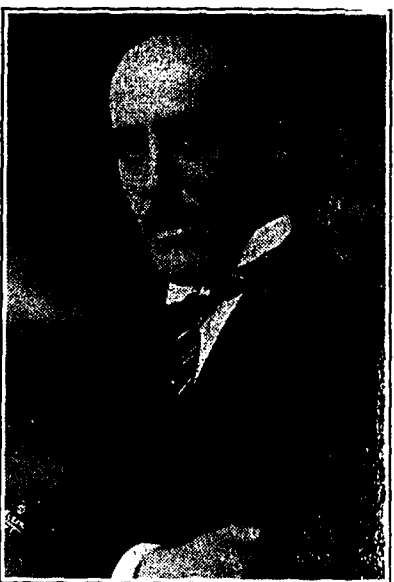

Last year it became quite a habit for a number of people to take their Saturday evening dinners at the Club House of the Narberth Tennis Club, and these dinners have again been started, and will be served by the Ladies of the Auxiliary each Saturday evening during the playing season, beginning six o'clock.

The price will be the same as last year, 75 cents a plate, and reservations should be made before the day of the dinner by phoning Mrs. Metzger at Narberth 693, as it is very important to know how many to prepare for.

The last two dinners were served to between 50 and 60, and last summer the number served sometimes reached nearly 100, so it is important that reservations be made.

Arrange to come up to the courts and watch the tennis matches and get a good dinner each Saturday evening during the season.

"Oh, Hail Us, Ye Free,"

On Tuesday afternoon at the Devon Horse Show, Mrs. Charles Sinnickson, of Bryn Mawr, was chatting with the members of her Children's House Committee of the Bryn Mawr Hospital about the Outdoor Main Line Music Festival to be given on the Bryn Mawr Polo Grounds Saturday evening, June 7. The entire committee was literally bubbling over with enthusiasm about the affair, and one member said: "Really, I was never quite so brimming over with fervor about any other benefit given for the Children's House as I am about our Main Line Music Festival for June 7. Just think, Mr. Nice has been training a Male Chorus of about 150 voices; he has engaged 50 members of the Philadelphia Orchestra; Basiola, the wonderful operatic baritone; and Renee Thornton, who has a marvelous dramatic soprano voice. Isn't that 'some' program?" she finished laughingly—and of course the reporter who was listening used his cuff immediately for that remark!

"And we owe so much to Mr. Nice," Mrs. Sinnickson interrupted. "You know Mr. Nice received his training in operatic conducting under the great Richard Hageman," she continued, "and has been re-engaged for next season as one of the conductors of the San Carlo Grand Opera Company. And I might give away a secret—I understand that Mr. Hageman promised Mr. Nice that he would be with us on June 7, himself, to conduct some of his own compositions. Won't that be splendid?"

At this point, another member of the committee picked up the conversation. "Yes, I never saw any one work so hard and untiringly as Mr. Nice. He thinks only of the good cause he is working for, and nothing is too much trouble. We never had any one arrange a better benefit for the Children's House, and we do so appreciate all that Prof. Nice is doing."

Just then a prominent Main Line leader rushed up asking where she could secure tickets for June 7, and Mrs. Sinnickson told her there was a booth at the Horse Show, right around the corner, selling tickets, or, if she didn't want to get them at once, to write to the Main Line Music Festival, Bryn Mawr, Pa., or telephone Narberth 1608, and they would be sent to her immediately, provided they had left the tickets she might want.

Commander and Mrs. Charles H. Shaw and children motored to Baltimore for the week-end over Memorial Day.

MERION CIVIC ASSOCIATION MEETS

Despite a slight falling off in attendance, due to the inclement weather, a very successful annual meeting was held by the Merion Civic Association Tuesday night. Between fifty and one hundred members were present. The meeting was held in the new War Tribute House.

In the absence of Mr. William J. Conlen, president, who is on his way to Europe, Vice President Edward C. Deardon was in the chair. In opening the meeting he sketched briefly the history of the Association during the past eleven years, and praised the community co-operation which has made so many accomplishments possible.

Especially praise was given by the chairman to Mrs. Percy E. Matthes, the Secretary. "The signal success of our organization," he said, "is due to her more than to anyone else."

The report of the President was read by another of the Vice Presidents, Mr. J. S. W. Holton. The report sketches the many accomplishments of the Association and lists the points of progress in the community for the past year.

New Directors

The nominations for officers and directors for the new year were read by Mr. T. Dun Belfield. The entire list of officers was re-elected. They are, President, Mr. William J. Conlen; Vice Presidents, Messrs. Edward C. Deardon, William DeKrafft, and J. S. W. Holton; Treasurer, Mr. William H. Polwell, and Secretary, Mrs. P. E. Matthes. Henry Delaplane was re-elected Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Four new directors were elected. They are Messrs. Philip Castner, John V. Macklin, Ernest Seating and Jonathan Wilford. The Philadelphia papers, in reporting the meeting, included the names of the four retiring directors instead of the new ones.

Several interesting talks were made. Mr. Henry Delaplane, a member of the Township Commission, gave a brief sketch of the scope and problems of the Township government. He told the association that Merion was the "12th Ward" of the Township.

Mrs. J. C. Sellers, Merion's representative on the School Board, gave an interesting account of the new Merion school, which will be ready by September of next year. Many of the community's children are now attending other Township schools, in addition to the large number in private schools. An effort will be made by the Association to have more of the children attend the local school which will be a model of its kind.

Dr. George W. Grim, Milk Control officer for Lower Merion, Haverford Township and Narberth gave an illustrated talk, showing the remarkable results which have been accomplished by the Milk Control. In the township great improvements have been made, and because of special vigilance by the Civic Association, Merion's milk supply is even better than the Township average.

Progress of the zoning idea in the Township was shown in a talk by Mr. Thomas Shalleross, Jr. The Commission has accumulated much data and is nearly ready to present its findings in a public meeting. A step in the direction of protection was recently taken by the Commissioners, he stated, in the passage of the amendment to the building code which makes row houses impossible.

Organ Recitals

After the meeting there was a delightful organ recital on the new instrument in the Tribute House, followed by refreshments and an inspection of the building.

It was announced that an organ recital would be rendered every Sunday afternoon from 4.00 to 5.30, so long as the demand justified. All residents were invited to attend. Mr. John F. Braun is in charge of this feature of the Association's work.

What a revolution in modern living has been brought about by the introduction of Automatic Gas Hot Water Service.

Many of us remember the Old Oaken Bucket days when we "washed up" in the back yard.

But even when we have a modern bathroom, we cannot know the joy of comfort and cleanliness unless we also have a Gas Water Heater.

The Storage Heater provides plenty of hot water for all household needs, and automatically restores the hot water in the tank as used.

And the price now is exceptionally low.

The cost of operation is surprisingly low.

JUPE PLUVIUS WON

It was a bad week for baseball. On Saturday Narberth had finished half a game with Oakmont, and the score was tied at 1-1 with five innings played. The other four were in favor of the rain, to whom the victory was finally awarded.

On Wednesday Narberth almost had a game with Brookline, but wet grounds held this contest up also.

Friday morning Narberth will play Ashland A. A. The game will be called at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon the team travels to Paon.

Saturday, May 31, Narberth plays our neighbors of Bala-Cynwyd. It is hoped that there will be a big attendance of fans at these games.

League Meeting

In the absence of President Bob Edgar, the meeting of the League on Monday night at the Wayne Men's Club was presided over by Manager Fred Walzer, of Narberth. Secretary Charles J. Shoemaker recorded the proceedings, and the clubs were represented as follows:

Berwyn, James Higgins; Paoli, Walter L. Hanley; Wayne, Nick Dorsaneo; Oakmont, James C. Nunan and James Barrett; Bala-Cynwyd, George Nellins and L. R. Trego.

The only business transacted was the filing and acceptance of the following list of players who will be eligible to play in the first half:

Wayne—N. C. Dorsaneo, manager; Joseph Dorsaneo, H. D. (Barney) McCue, J. Leo Murphy, Albert Brooke, Frederick (Doc) Wallace, John O' Meara, Earle Brandt, Albert Bateman, William Lathrop, Howard C. Harbison, James Killarney Dunne, David Snyder, Barney Murphy, Dave Lichtenfeld, Cress Hallowell, Mike Capolla, Russ Albertson, John L. Mather, Jr., Denham E. Young.

Berwyn—Phin P. Pyott, manager; Robert Paist, Dan Redmond, David Frost, Dan Hampshire, William Douglass, E. Kirk, E. Mayo, Eddie Hayman, William Dorsaneo, Brooke Lewis, Robert Collier, James Higgins, M. James, E. Burton, Martie Kelley, Mel Kelly, H. McQuiston, W. Crothers and T. Dorsaneo.

Protect Yourself!

It is a known fact that the greatest aids to contagion and disease are the common house flies. Idly they flit in and out of open, unprotected windows and doors, touching the food you eat, with polluted bodies, perhaps coming in contact with the milk for an infant.

All danger can be averted by the simple precaution of screened windows and doors.

We are here to help you with a full line of modestly priced window screens at 49c up. We also carry Continental doors.

PRAISE FROM STATE OFFICIAL

Robt. P. Bliss Comments on Work of Narberth Library

The Annual Report of the Community Library was recently sent to the Library Extension Division of the State Library and Museum of Harrisburg, in accordance with a request which had previously been made by the State officials. Soon after mailing this report, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Wood, the local librarian, received the following interesting letter from Robt. P. Bliss, Chief of Division:

"We are in receipt of your report for the last year's work and I want to congratulate you on what you have accomplished. You are comparing very favorably with the good libraries in the work done, as shown by the report and, of course, your report does not and cannot show the reference work done in the library itself which is possibly the more valuable part of the service rendered. As I figure from your record, you have circulated four volumes per capita of the population, and theoretically each volume has been borrowed four times.

"You, also, have a very fair proportion of your population using the library. This latter figure is one which you may find difficult to increase, but it should be the work of the library to do so. You have about one third of the population, but I believe that in a place like yours, this might be increased to one half. At any rate, it might be a good goal to accept. The best libraries circulate about six volumes per capita and there are a few that go to a figure which is about double that. You have certainly done a splendid piece of work and one which I am sure will have a beneficial effect on the community.

"I hope that we may be of help to you from time to time."

FLOWER SHOW NEXT SATURDAY

Annual Main Line Show to Be Held in Fairmount Park

For the past several years it has been a custom for the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society to hold a Spring Flower Show, featuring Peonies, Roses and other hardy garden flowers of early June, at Ardmore, Haverford or some near-by point.

For 1924, however, a bigger and better exhibition has been planned and other garden organizations are helping in one big exhibition to be held in Memorial Hall, Forty-second and Parkside avenue, on June 6th, 7th and 8th.

The exhibition will be open free to the public on Friday from 7 to 10 P. M., on Saturday from 9:30 A. M. to 10 P. M., and on Sunday from 1 P. M. to 6 P. M.

Mr. H. B. Barclay, of Narberth, is a member of the Exhibition Committee.

Flower fanciers and garden lovers from all over Eastern Pennsylvania will attend this really wonderful flower show and will not only see the best of hardy garden flowers on exhibition, but will see miniature gardens, wall gardens, floral arrangements for the home and other features, all in a beautiful setting that will make one feel that this world is not such a bad place after all.

Narberth gardens have exhibited their best flowers at these shows in the past and have always won a share of the much coveted prizes, and the season of 1924 need not be any exception.

All those at all interested in the garden are urged to attend as the educational value of such an exhibition is really an opportunity that we cannot afford to miss, and a whole year is a long time to wait for a seasonable feast such as is offered.

MEET US AT HORTICULTURAL HALL NEXT FRIDAY EVENING.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hagen and daughter, of Reading, Pa., and Mrs. David Hamaker and son, of Trenton, N. J., were the guests of the Needham family during the week.

NARBERTH MAN FREED ON LIQUOR VIOLATION

Frank W. Cortright, Narberth, secretary of a coal company, arrested Friday night at the Market street ferry, Philadelphia, on the charge of illegally transporting liquor, was discharged by Magistrate Fitzgerald.

His wife, Mrs. Gladys Cortright, who was with him at the time of his arrest, testified in behalf of her husband, when he was arraigned in the Traffic Court, Fifteenth and Vine streets, Philadelphia.

Cortright was arrested by Jordan, a traffic policeman, when he attempted to make a left-hand turn at Market street and Delaware avenue, while returning from New Jersey in his motor car.

Jordan testified when he walked over to the machine, Cortright shoved a bottle, said to contain grape wine, to the policeman, declaring, "Here, take this and have it analyzed." He said he took the bottle and arrested Cortright.

PUBLIC MEETING

Notice is hereby given that a public meeting will be held on Friday, June 6, 1924, at 8 P. LOWER MERION HIGH NEWS

The Senior Class of Lower Merion will leave June 9 for a trip up the Hudson River to West Point, New York. About half of the class of some 120 students have already signified their intention of going. The Senior trip is an annual one made by each graduating class.

The trip has been under discussion for some time, but decision as to what place should be visited was finally made Monday afternoon at a meeting of the Senior Class in Miss Holland's room. President Folwell Seall, of Cynwyd, presided at the meeting. The other officers of the fourth year men are Vice President Louise Williams, Secretary Thomas Mannings, and Treasurer Walter Derham.

several years, and all these conditions coming in a little over a year.

Previous to the start of the mix-up, liberal-minded horsemen had contributed toward Grand Circuit and other race meetings, the former generally being conducted at a loss, but not to the club, rent received from the lessee being sufficient to cover running expenses until the Volstead law went into effect, and the rental reduced. That was the beginning of the end, and what that end may be even the most expert lawyers do not seem able to foretell. However, one thing does seem certain, and that is that the property has become too valuable as a real estate proposition to be held longer as a race track under the present anti-betting law now in force in this State, and there does not seem to be much chance for a change under the present administration.

Some of the largest and best stables of trotters and runners are owned in this city and Pittsburgh. The horses are shipped to New York, Maryland, Kentucky and Ohio, and win many important events at meetings in these States. "These same kind of meetings could be given in this State if offered the same chance, as there never was a more popular track among the Big Line followers than the one at Narberth, or one that had more real admirers of the trotters and pacers who attended the races regularly," says Al Saunders, racing authority. "The same condition could have been created among lovers of the thoroughbred, and if the old track does go, it is hoped that the rumors about some of the active horsemen clubbing together, securing a suitable site and erecting a new mile track it true. It looks as if there are enough of the right kind of men here to put such a proposition over, more particularly if horse show exhibitors, polo enthusiasts, breeders of thoroughbreds, sponsors of hunt meets and followers of light harness racing would get together and agree upon some plan whereby one plant could be used for everything."

Looking Ahead

LAST Spring a total of 350,000 people were disappointed in not being able to obtain deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks, as orders were placed faster than cars could be produced.

The demand for Ford Cars and Trucks this Spring will, according to all indications, be far greater than last Spring.

Winter buying has been increasing at a greater rate than ever before.

Actual retail deliveries the past 60 days totaled 308,170 Ford Cars and Trucks, an increase of 1,961 a day over a year ago.

Over 200,000 people have already ordered Ford products on our purchase plan, the majority of whom will take delivery in the Spring.

The above facts are given with the suggestion that you list your order promptly with a Ford dealer if you contemplate the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer and wish to avoid delay in delivery.
